The Proprietors gratefully ſenſible of the Support received and general Satisfaction expreſſed at the late Maſquerades, reſpectfully acquaint the Public that the Third is fixed for this Evening.

Theatre-Royal, Margate.

On WEDNESDAY, the 17th of SEPTEMBER, 1800,

WILL BE A

Grand Maſquerade.

A NEW FLOORING is made to cover the PIT, which, with various Decorations will form the WHOLE of the THEATRE into a

SUPERB SALOON,

ILLUMINATED WITH

GLASS CHANDELIERS,

And upwards of

500 VARIEGATED LAMPS.

At the Deſire of ſeveral Ladies and Gentlemen, Company will be admitted

WITH OR WITHOUT MASKS.

Several ſelect Pieces of Muſic

will be performed from NINE 'till ELEVEN o'Clock, when

Country Dances

begin, in which the Company, whether maſked or not, may join at their Pleaſure.

Admission to the Saloon or Boxes, 3s.

SPECTATORS in the GALLERY, 1s.

Gentlemen who are desirous of personating Characters will be provided with Dresses at the Theatre.

Tea, Coffee, d'Orgeat, Lemonade, &c.

May be had of Perſons who will attend at the Theatre for that Purpoſe.

TICKETS of ADMISSION may be had of Mr. DALE, at the THEATRE-OFFICE.—DOORS to be open at NINE o'Clock and to cloſe at Half-paſt ONE.

[Warren, Printer Margate.]

BRITISH
24 AP 72
MUSEUM